In the Tradition of Woman's Medical College of Pennsylvania and Hahnemann Medical College™

1850: Woman's Medical College Building

1950: Woman's Medical College

1950: Woman's Medical College

1950: Woman's Medical College

OCTOBER 12TH, 1850: THE FEMALE MEDICAL COLLEGE OF PENNSYLVANIA, ESTABLISHED BY PHILADELPHIA QUAKERS, OPENED ITS DOORS BECOMING THE FIRST SCHOOL IN THE WORLD TO OFFER THE MEDICAL DEGREE TO WOMEN. TUITION WAS $80 PER STUDENT FOR A 2 YEAR PROGRAM. CLASSES STARTED FOR THE 8 CANDIDATES IN PHILADELPHIA, AT THE REAR OF 229 ARCH STREET - HAHNEMANN'S OLD MEDICAL BUILDING.

1865: DR. ANN PRESTON, ALUMNUS OF THE FIRST CLASS, WAS NAMED DEAN OF THE FEMALE MEDICAL COLLEGE AFTER SERVING AS A PROFESSOR OF PHYSIOLOGY AND HYGIENE FOR 12 YEARS. SHE WAS THE FIRST WOMAN TO BECOME A PROFESSOR IN A MEDICAL SCHOOL AND TO BECOME A DEAN OF A MEDICAL COLLEGE IN THE UNITED STATES.

1867: DR. REBECCA COLE BECOMES THE FIRST BLACK WOMAN TO GRADUATE FROM WOMAN'S MEDICAL COLLEGE, AND THE SECOND AFRICAN AMERICAN WOMAN PHYSICIAN IN THE U.S.

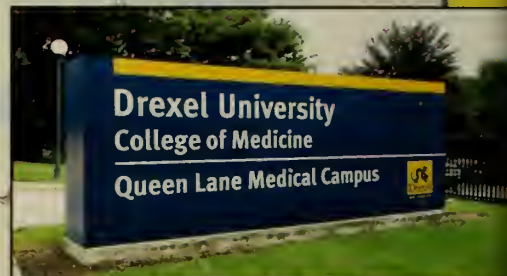

1867: THE FEMALE MEDICAL COLLEGE OF PENNSYLVANIA IS RENAMED THE WOMAN'S MEDICAL COLLEGE OF PENNSYLVANIA IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE POPULAR NOTION THAT 'FEMALE' IS AN UNIGNIFIED EXPRESSION.

1929: THE WOMAN'S MEDICAL COLLEGE HOSPITAL IS BUILT IN EAST PHILADELPHIA.

1969: THE BOARD OF CORPORATIONS APPROVES THE ADMISSION OF MEN. AFTER A HEATED DEBATE, THE WOMAN'S MEDICAL COLLEGE IS RENAMED THE COLLEGE OF MEDICINE OF PENNSYLVANIA.

1971: THE NATION'S FIRST POSTGRADUATE TRAINING PROGRAM IN EMERGENCY MEDICINE IS INITIATED UNDER DAVID WAGNER, MD AT MCP.

2000: THE MEDICAL COLLEGE OF PENNSYLVANIA CELEBRATES ITS SESQUICENTENNIAL - 150 YEARS OF MEDICAL EDUCATION.

Oath of Hippocrates

I solemnly swear or affirm, by whatever I hold most sacred:

That I will be loyal to the profession of medicine and just and generous to its members;

That I will lead my life and practice my art in uprightness and in honor;

That into whatsoever house I shall enter, it shall be for the good of the sick to the utmost of my power, holding myself far aloof from wrong, from corruption, from the tempting of others to vice;

That I will exercise my art solely for the benefit of my patients, and will give no drug, or perform no operation, for a criminal purpose, even if solicited, far less suggest it;

That whatsoever I shall see or hear of the lives of patients which is not fitting to be spoken, I will keep inviolably secret.

These things I do swear or affirm.

DEANS 18

FACULTY 20

Whether it was accepting us off the waitlist the day before orientation, or granting an extra travel day during our Sub-I for that last residency interview, the Drexel University College of Medicine's faculty and staff have provided continuous support and encouragement throughout the past four years. The Deans have provided endless guidance, the faculty has taught us the foundations and principals of medicine, and our attending physicians have emulated the art of patient interaction and care. All their hard work has not gone unnoticed, and we, as students, owe them everything for making these four years great. Thank you to all the amazing teachers and good friends we have made along the way as we, the Class of 2010, have grown from students into physicians.

*F*inally, it's our time to rule the school. But first, we must complete our ERAS application, take the USMLE Step 2 CK and CS, pass our medicine sub-internship and neurology shelf, and fill out one last survey. Then, we can coast for the rest of the year and take that Spanish rotation in Costa Rica or vacation in the Dominican Republic, Africa, or California before we cross our fingers and pray to a god during Match Day. If only we could stay seniors for another one or two years....

Someone once told me "You cannot be really great at your work, if your work is all you are."
To that, I must thank all of the people who have made me who I am today.

First and foremost, to my family for knowing that this was the road I was destined to take even before I had fully realized it myself but still allowed me to find my own way nonetheless. I am so lucky to have your unconditional love and support as reminders of what is most important in life.

To my girlies, thank you for helping me laugh my way through all the ups and downs over the past four years. I am so glad that the infamous time "before we knew each other" was brief, because nothing about med school would have been the same without the three of you by my side.

To all my friends both near and far who supported me through this crazy life even without knowing what med students do all day, I will always appreciate your encouraging words and faith in me.

To my Drexel peers, it is hard to believe that this day has finally come. I am so grateful for the amazing friendships I have gained during even the most stressful of times and under the most unlikely of circumstances. Each one will remain dear to me for many years to come. I wish you all the best of luck in everything that you do.

I had an awesome time in Philadelphia. If I could do it over, I would totally do the whole "East Coast experience" again...minus the med school thing. Haha. Somebody asked me what the biggest thing that I would miss about Philly, and I'm going to miss all of the people that I met. Good peeps = good times. It's crazy to think that we're doctors now. It feels like we just started last year. The four years at Drexel has gone by so fast. But I'm hella looking forward to starting residency. If anybody's going to visit California, holla!

Thank you to my parents for all their support throughout medical school and all of my 25 years of education. Thank you to my brother and sister for their company and many visits to Philadelphia, and for their relentless support. And thank you especially to my husband Parth for walking through this long journey with me, for keeping me sane through late nights of studying and hard days on rotations. I could never have done this without you. I am so lucky to have found my lifelong partner at Drexel.

I can't believe this day is finally here. Congratulations to the class of 2010!

I want to thank my amazing parents, Abdi and Leily, for their constant love and support. Your passion for life and love for all has truly made me the compassionate person I am today. I am grateful to have such an amazing aunt and uncle, Merhzad and Mohammad, who have done nothing less than love me and treat me like a son. I am fortunate to have a best friend as a brother who has always been there for me through all the difficult parts of my life. Rashid, I wish you the best in residency and can not wait for more exciting times for both of us in the future. To my sweet and caring younger sister, Tannaz, you have motivated me and inspired me more than you know. I will never forget our long drives and conversations. To my other sister and cousin, Zahra, I would like to thank for always being the voice of reason. Even though you are only a few months younger than me, you are wise beyond your years. Thank you from the deepest part of my heart.

Thank you for believing in me.

And Death Shall Have No Dominion

And death shall have no dominion. Dead mean naked they shall be one With the man in the wind and the west moon; When their bones are picked clean and the clean bones gone,
They shall have stars at elbow and foot; Though they go mad they shall be sane,
Though they sink through the sea they shall rise again; Though lovers be lost love shall not;
And death shall have no dominion.

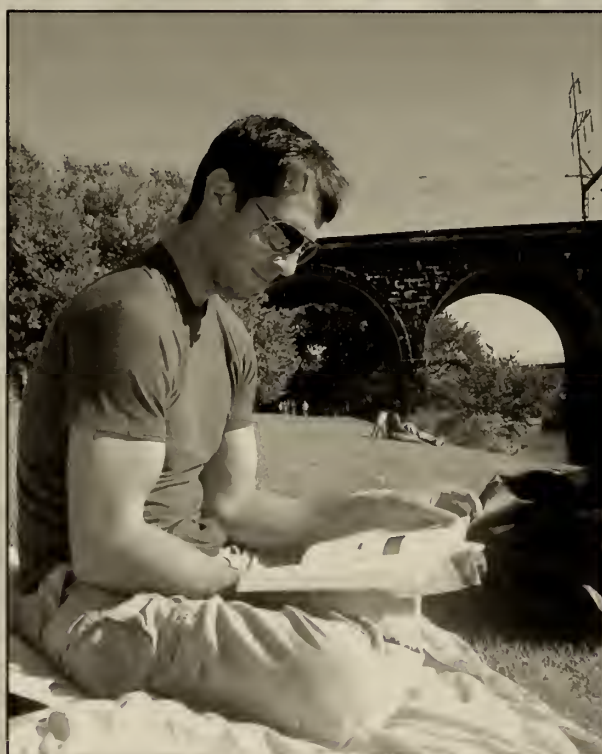

And death shall have no dominion. Under the windings of the sea
They lying long shall not die windily; Twisting on racks when sinews give way, Strapped to a wheel, yet they shall not break; Faith in their hands shall snap in two,
And the unicorn evils run them through; Split all ends up they shan't crack;
And death shall have no dominion.

And death shall have no dominion. No more may gulls cry at their ears
Or waves break loud on the seashores; Where blew a flower may a flower no more Lift its head to the blows of the rain; Though they be mad and dead as nails,
Heads of the characters hammer through daisies; Break in the sun till the sun breaks down,
And death shall have no dominion.

Mom & Dad: I want to thank you with my whole heart. Everything good that has ever happened to me is because of you. I am so grateful to you for listening, cooking, loving and caring for me all day everyday. I am honored to be your daughter (dauctor)

My brother Jack: My life would be an empty void without you. I love you so much, totes.

John: My life partner- deserving of all my gratitude and love (amo te, pulchissima)

Jakey Muffins Poodle: Your hugs and kisses sustained me through med school. Study pets will continue with Jack!

Meg, Mic, Caro, Jane and Di: When Parrish said on the first day of school, "look to your left, look to your right, these are the people who will help you through med school" he was taking about you. I couldn't have survived without the love, laughter, support and happiness you brought to me everyday. You are the best friends of my life.

Dearest family and friends,

I am so happy to finally be done with school! Although this has been a long and hard journey it was well worth it. I remember those many hours studying with J. Ro and Christof just trying to survive the next test. I will never forget how Justin stabbed me in anatomy and when my cell fell from the table in a cup of water on the floor at Buck's county coffee. Going to D.R. was so much fun too! I feel so fortunate to have made good friends and to have accomplished everything I wanted to in medical school. 2010 has certainly been the best year ever because I am graduating, getting married, and starting my first choice internship all in the same year. Of course, I would have never made it this far if it weren't for my parentals, Juan and Luisa, who I love very much. I also want to thank my sweetheart Ramin who has made these last three years the best of my life. Good luck to everyone and I wish you all the happiness and prosperity in the coming years.

Hugs and kisses, Lorraine

To those who helped make a doctor out of me: Thank you!

To Mom, Pa, Kisa, Ingrid, Greta, Grandma and Grandpa, who sometimes didn't hear from me for weeks: You kept sending mail, love, and banana bread, and only asked for an occasional proof of life. I love you, my cheeseheads!

To the rest of my WI fan club: thanks for understanding that when I came home for break, all I wanted to do was sleep. I hope I can make it up to you!

To my girls: CONGRATULATIONS, doctors! It's all downhill from here! You have been my home away from home, my fun times, and the best girlfriends anyone could ask for.

To M, who has been my strength, my understanding, and my confidence: You make everything easier and that is the greatest gift. Congratulations to you on finishing your residency!

Thank you to all of my friends and family who have supported me throughout medical school. To my parents who in addition to their enormous financial assistance, encouraged me to follow my dreams. To the love of my life, Prachi, who has been there for me as a fellow medical student and as the always supporting girlfriend. To my brothers who have had to put up with my crazy schedule, lack of time off and availability. To all of my fellow classmates/friends that were a pleasure to work with during the basic science years and clerkships (especially my first year gross lab group). To all of the wonderful professors and attendings that not only taught me the material, but showed me what being a physician really meant. My journey thru medical school has been life-altering. I have matured, met the person I am ready to spend the rest of my life with, and I have met wonderful and lifelong friends. None of which could not have been possible without my family. Their encouragement and belief in me gave me the confidence to move cross-country to make my dreams come true. To my step-father Rick, you have always been the quiet strength in my life and the one I can count on. To my brother Caden, leaving you at the age of 4 was incredibly hard and I thank you for taking our separation with a smile and optimism for the future. To my mother, you have been the example that has inspired me, the person to push me when I needed it, and the confidant who always dispensed advice with insight and honesty. Lastly, to the love of my life... Jamen, I can't imagine my future without you in it. You are truly my best friend and soul mate, I wasn't even sure I believed in that until I met you. Carol, Greg, and Casey thanks for being the best future in-laws, I appreciate your support of our relationship. Well, it's been a long road, but the end/beginning is finally here! I want to first and foremost thank my Lord and Savior Jesus Christ for sustaining me the whole way. Med school proved to be every bit as challenging as I thought it might be (maybe even more so), and there were days when His strength was all that I had to rely on. Thank you also to my family for all of your support, encouragement and prayers...I definitely could not have gotten through this without you : ) Dad, thanks for always being a great example of what it looks like to work hard and be persistent. Mom, you always made coming home on the weekends fun, and I'm not sure I would still have my sanity if it weren't for our daily chats and me getting the chance to vent to someone! Eric, thank you for being so understanding and patient on all of those crazy weekends spent studying, rather than out having fun. I love you and can't wait to start my life with you! Krista and Kelsey, thank you for being such wonderful and supportive sisters...feel free to bring my future nieces and nephews in for a quick check-up anytime : ) Ray and Jordan, thanks for all the fun weekends spent at home together, and make sure to keep me up-to-date with whatever's going on in the cartoon world! Emma, thanks for being a great med school buddy, and best of luck next year at Jefferson : ) Lastly, thank you to all of the dedicated teachers at Drexel. Even though residency will undoubtedly be a challenging experience, I am confident that I'm being sent out into "the real world" with all of the tools I will need to start training for a successful career in medicine. Best of luck and congratulations to the class of 2010!!

Mom and Dad, I don't think I will ever be able to thank you enough for all you have done for me. I would never have gotten this far in life without your support, guidance, and love. Harman, you are the funniest person I know. You have such a good heart and it's going to take you very far in life. To the friends I have made in med school, I am so happy I met you all and I know we will keep in touch. Nothing will ever replace the time we spent together during one of the most challenging and rewarding times in our lives. To the friends I have had for the last 7 years, you know who you are. I can't believe we came this far together. The last 7 years went by so fast, and we have all grown up so much. We saw each other transition from kids at home to young adults getting our first tastes of freedom in college. In med school we watched each other grow and mature into the people we are now. I hope we will continue to be friends during the next phases of our lives. Finally I'd like to thank my fiance for all the support he's given me. You have taught me so much and I can't wait to start our lives together. I love you all.

Mom: From all of the delicious, home-cooked Italian meals to the late night phone calls reminding me to breathe, you've always known exactly what I needed. Thank you for being my best friend. Justin & Katie: Thanks for always being the most reliable rock climbing, alcohol drinking, and gmail chatting siblings anyone could ever ask for. I love you both.

Vanessa, Jane and Christy: No one has ever had best friends as understanding of how limited time actually is. And where other people failed, the three of you stepped up more than I ever could have hoped when I needed you the most. I'm so lucky to have you. Adam: I love you. You have taught me so much about life and living it with you has been filled with laughter even in the roughest moments. Thank you for helping me to become the confident, passionate woman I am today.

Carl, Dave and Jae: I'll cook you good Italian food whenever you want. Thank you for always being there when I needed to vent, when I needed to drink or if I just needed a hug. I love you guys.

For my girls - I'm so lucky to have met you. I'll McWander anywhere if I know you're behind me.

For Kerri, Kevin, Erin and Ryan - Thanks for letting me stitch you up on the kitchen counter and for always being in my corner.

For George - For keeping me sane. You're the best.

For my Mom - You taught me what it means to care for someone who is sick long before anyone else. Your example is my inspiration every day.

For my Dad - For being the bravest patient I ever knew. I miss you.

Now that I am finally here, it is rightfully so that I take this moment to thank those that have made it possible for me to be where I am today. My parents have shown me that hard work will always lead to success, to shoot for the stars and their continued selflessness to catch me when I fall. To my sons Brandon and Jaeden, who give me joy and unconditional love. You two are my breath of fresh air and know I love you two very much. My boyfriend Patrick, listening to me complain over exams and rotations. It is you who have been my rock and my best friend that I have found the strength to continue even when I couldn't see the finish line. To my siblings, who took it upon themselves to care for my sons by providing a loving environment for growth and nourishment. Lastly, to ALL my friends and relatives for their support and words of encouragement. So from the bottom of my heart, I thank each and every one of you for your love, support and the positive impact you have had in my life.

To my friends who have been there for me through the good times and the bad: I could not have done this without the support from all of you. Whether it's listening to me complain or just hanging out and having a good time, I cherished every moment. I will always take a moment whenever I play football to reminisce about the times that we played.

To my parents and family: Thank you for being there for me even though I was extremely busy and never had a lot of time to chat.

To my mentor Dr. Edmunds: Thank you for showing me the light. It's been a long journey but I finally found what I truly love to do and I could not have done so without your guidance.

To my dearest family who has stuck by me through thick and thin, I owe you all of my success and achievements as I would not have been able to do this without you. I dedicate this page to my parents (Dr. Hae Dong and Mi-ja Jho) who celebrated with me when times were good, suffered the brunt of things when times became difficult, and encouraged me when I was down. I owe them everything. I am deeply grateful to my wonderful brothers (David and Eugene), sister-in-law (Jeanie), niece (Sophia), and nephew (Justin) who fill my life with joy and laughter and have shaped me into who I am today. Thank you from the deepest depths of my heart.

Firstly, MERCI to my family. Il n'y pas assez de mots pour vous remercier. Secondly, a big shout out to my friends who stood by me despite my inability to devote time to our friendships- Ward, Brit, Laur, Jessie, Mon, Kim. Our calls were my saving graces. Lastly, I'm grateful for the friends I made these last 4yrs. Our trials & tribulations, our humor, our nights at Tavern & Drinkers, our ice cream dates, our shopping sprees, our chick flicks- all let me catch my breath when I was drowning. Whatever awaits us, near & far, I will always be fond of these memories.

To all those people without whom med school would have never been the same or maybe would have never even happened. To Lauren, my most insightful and non-judgmental friend - I'll never tell what really happened in Ft Lauderdale if you don't! To Ashlee, for inspiring me with your passion for medicine. And red wine. To Jenna, my heterosexual life partner, who has taught me a lot, from hanging pictures to hardboiling eggs. And who always rolls hard and early. To my dad for his support. And Amy. Without you, I never would have even made it to Philly on our first trip. And I can definitely say that your visits kept things interesting. I love you all.

Muchas gracias, no lo podria haber logrado sin ustedes! Los quiero muchisimo. It's been a long journey and I am glad good things are happening this year.

I wish the best to all of the friends I made in medical school. I moved to this city expecting to meet nice school friends at best and ended up meeting people that will be my best friends for life. I am sad that we are all going our separate ways but confident that everyone will do great no matter what path we follow. I will miss all of you so let's keep in touch!

Patrick, I love you and want to thank you for helping me get through every sing obstacle and for sharing all the amazing times I've experienced over the last 3 years.

Gracias to all the other people that either inspired me or helped me get to or through medical school, starting from my high school teacher, to my advisors at UF, my non med school friends that keep me sane, and to all the wonderful facu at Drexel and St. Christopher's that helped me finalize my dream.

I would like to thank everyone in my life that has made my graduation from medical school possible. First, I would like to thank God for giving me the inspiration to pursue medicine as a career. Next I must thank all of my family members especially my parents and my sister Millie who helped and supported me since I was a child. The love and unfettering support of my parents and Millie made this day possible. I also owe a lot of this day to my wife whom I met during my medical school days at Drexel. My wife Nisha has been a great companion during our medical school years and I can easily say the best thing to happen to me during medical school was meeting and ultimately marrying Nisha during my time at Drexel. I must also thank members of my extended family that have supported me and made me who I am. Lastly, I would like to thank my wife's family for giving me love and support during my years in school.

Good luck to members of the class of 2010!!!

I felt an instant connection to DUCOM when I interviewed here not so long ago. I could tell that it was a school that appreciated the unique individuals of the applicant pool. After the initial uncomfortable adjustment period, I quickly realized what a true gem I had been blessed with. Interacting with so many people from teachers to students who were sincere in their desire to help people has been inspiring and motivating on a daily basis.

To my parents who had an unnervingly steadfast belief in me, a belief that I didn't always share. It has finally paid off.

Jon Kotlar, study buddy extraordinaire. I didn't realize how similar we were until we made our pact over a La Chouffe at O'neil's. Your positive influence on my career and life are indescribable. I send many blessings to you and your family in your new winter paradise.

To all the other DUCOMers I am forever indebted for your support, humor, and inspiration.

Thank you God for seeing me through. I don't know what the future holds, but You hold the future so I don't have to worry.

To my family: I wanted to be a traveling singer, piano player, doctor... Most of those other things fell by the wayside, but the desire to be a doctor didn't. I'm not sure if any of us knew what I was getting into, but we made it through! Thanks for sticking with me through all the adventures of med school!! Love you!

To my friends: You are all amazing and I'm so happy to have met you! You made this experience so much better just by being here. You'll all be great doctors and I'll see most of you in Cali in a few years!

To Drew: Med school has been crazy, but we found each other, and couldn't be happier. Thanks for your support, patience, and all the fun you added to my life. God has a plan for us, and it's gonna be a good one. Love you!!! Also, thanks to your family for welcoming me in...I'm very excited for the future!

I can't believe how quickly these past 4 years flew by! It has been such an exciting journey to get to this point. First, I'd like to thank my parents for encouraging me to always do my best and become the person they always knew I was capable of becoming. I'd like to thank my sister and brother for their love, support, and most importantly, laughter! I also want to thank John Paul, who has become my best friend and partner. He has been there for all the highs and lows during medical school. Finally, I want to thank all the close friends I met in school who made this entire process so memorable and have become like a family to me.

I feel tremendous gratitude (and relief) for having made it through medical school and a year of service abroad during these last five years. This task could not have been accomplished without the constant support and occasional emotional resuscitation by friends and family members. Much like this time five years ago, I'm off to new city (Indianapolis), except this time it's to become expert at removing peas from kids' noses. Best wishes to all of those dear servants of humanity in the class of 2010 who are learning to remove various substances from the orifices of their choosing.

I still remember walking into Aud A for our first exam and hearing Dr. Ferrer say, "The national board sets a pace of 1.2 minutes per question..." -her voice trailed off as I thought to myself, "What in the world have I gotten into?" Four years later I'm still not sure I know the answer to that but it's definitely been without question the most interesting four years of my life. Actually, I think we all know that "interesting" would be an understatement. The last 4 years have been a complete blur and after the countless sleepless nights, empty coffee cups and burned out highlighters, we can finally say that we are doctors. Congratulations to everyone!

For my friends: thanks for making mnemonics interesting, but more importantly, I think it's safe to say that we've been through it all together. Let's be honest -there's probably a few things that I would change, but if I had to do it again, I wouldn't have gone through it all with anyone else except you guys. If I haven't said it yet, thank you for being there, being supportive, and being yourselves through all the madness...thanks for everything. You made these years exciting and I will never forget you all for that. Hey Class of 2010!

These last four years have been amazing and I want to thank all of you for the fantastic times I have had. From first starting out and helping each other through the seemingly never-ending slew of tests, and then moving on to our clinical years where we had to support one another with residents, attendings, and patients, our time together has been very memorable!

I want to thank our amazing professors! Without your time and patience we would not be the doctors we are today. You provided us with a wealth of knowledge that will enable us to be great physicians and for that I thank you.

Thank you also to Kate, Jane, Dianna, Sara, Meg, Caroline and Michelle. You ladies have made my years here so much better. I know I could always rely on you girls for anything, I can't wait to hear about all of your adventures in residency.

The last and most important thank yous go to my family. To Davidson, Mom, Dad and Craig: I love you all so much, I could have never made it here without your constant encouragement and unfailing belief that I would one day reach this moment.

Good luck Class of 2010, you will all make excellent physicians and I am so lucky to have worked with you. I can't wait to work with some of you in the future.

First to my parents - Thank you Mom and Dad for your boundless love and encouragement. You taught me there is no goal in life that is too difficult to accomplish as long as I kept my eye on the goal. You always motivated me to expect more from myself and showered me with endless warmth and compassion. If it wasn't for you, I could never have made it this far.

My sister - Rashmee, thank you for being there at all times of the day especially when I needed you the most. You always took every opportunity you could to make my life easier. Your strength and encouragement helped me reach the stars. I am so lucky to have such a wonderful sister.

Raj, thank you for giving me a shoulder to lean on 24/7 and expecting more from me. You made sure that I never gave up and motivated me to accomplish my dreams, no matter which way the paths turned. Thank you for being the best partner one could ever ask for!

A big thank you from the bottom of my heart to all of you for your unconditional love, faith and encouragement throughout my pursuit in becoming a physician!

Good morning. In less than an hour, aircraft from here will join others from around the world. And you will be launching the largest aerial battle in this history of mankind.
Mankind -- that word should have new meaning for all of us today.
We can't be consumed by our petty differences anymore.
We will be united in our common interests.
Perhaps its fate that today is the 4th of July, and you will once again be fighting for our freedom, not from tyranny, oppression, or persecution -- but from annihilation.
We're fighting for our right to live, to exist.
And should we win the day, the 4th of July will no longer be known as an American holiday, but as the day when the world declared in one voice:
We will not go quietly into the night!
We will not vanish without a fight!
We're going to live on! We're going to survive!"
Today, we celebrate our Independence Day!

I want to give a special thanks to my husband, Nick, who has been so incredibly supportive of my dream of going to medical school ever since we ate lunch that day at Canyon Cafe. I couldn't have done it without you.

Thanks to Aiden, and even Mia though she doesn't know any differently yet, for being such great kids and putting up with all the times you missed me because I was at school or studying.

Thanks to all of my family, both Shaw and Tustison alike, for your support and encouragement through the years.

Thanks to my amazing group of friends who at times pulled me through first and second year classes, and then drove me around, reminded me when we had rounds, and dragged me through rotations and studying for shelves. I truly never would have gotten through without you guys.

I also have to include a little note to my peeps in student affairs who just made my life better all along the way. I am so grateful to have met, known, loved, and worked with all of you.

The past four years have been some of the most difficult and yet rewarding in my life. I want to thank my mom, dad, sister, and cousins for their endless support and encouragement. Thank you for bringing me food until I learned to cook, for bleaching the germs out of my white coat, and for giving me perspective during difficult times. You were all instrumental in helping me finally answer the question, "What do you want to be when you grow up" and actually making it happen.

I want to thank my friends for going through every hoop and obstacle with me. For those outside of medicine, thank you for being my link to reality. Past graduates, thank you for letting me know that each time I felt the world was going to end it would always keep spinning. To my classmates, thank you for the late night coffee breaks and other shenanigans. Thank you for letting me monopolize the microphone during sessions of guitar hero. *I*n between studying for exams, coffee trips, and on-call nights during clinical rotations, we managed to have a lot of fun together as a class. We partied the night away at welcome back dances, got all dressed up for halloweens, over-celebrated at class socials, and strutted our stuff on stage at PABC's. We certainly knew how to work hard and play harder. The photos in the next pages captured many smiles and laughs, an occasional tear, as well as an embarrassing dance move or two, but one thing is for certain, these candid class photographs captured a lot of fantastic memories. ..

ith only one week remaining before the end of medical school, the culmination of years, if not decades, of hard work and dedication is bittersweet to say the least. Through four years of medical school, we all faced struggles that could not have been overcome without the friends and colleagues that we made along the way. Though graduation week is a time to rejoice in our accomplishments, it is also a time to thank our families for their support, and remind our friends that this journey could only have been accomplished with them at our side.

*D*uring our long road to graduation, many people have influenced our lives; friends, family, professors, and mentors. Commencement is an important day for us, serving as the culmination of many years of schooling, hard work, and late nights cramming. However graduation also serves as a shining moment for everyone else who supported us along our journey to M.D. In these next few pages, you will find words of congratulations, memories from childhood, as well as words of inspiration and advice, but most importantly, these pages are a chance for friends and family to say "We are so proud of you..."

Class 2010

Dear Marielle,

"Virtue is the center of all the felicities...
Virtue is the sun of the microcosm, and has for hemisphere a good conscience. She is so beautiful she finds favor with both God and man..."

You have always amazed us Marielle with your tenacity to achieve, with your desire to see a better world, and your willingness to put comforts aside in trying to make it so.
There is devotion in your eyes and yearning for humanity to do better in caring for the weakest among us.

It is, in a word, your virtue that we see you striving for. And you are special with that beauty blooming in your soul.

Love,
Dad, Mom, Kristen, and Jonathan

Clif,
Years ago a physician told me that when you are a doctor, you have a chance to touch many people in life, some for more and some for less.
It is a thought that gives you pause but we know they will be better for knowing you since you are a wonderful person.

Your family would like to congratulate you on your graduation from medical school and would like to leave you these messages:

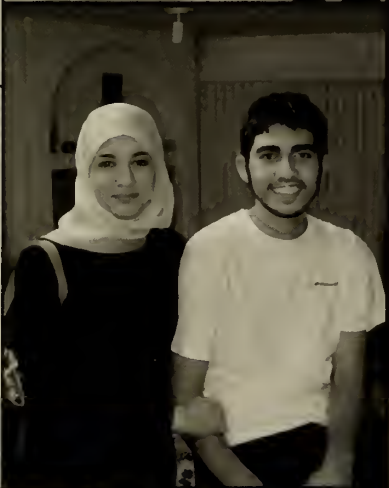

Zainab, We held your hand while you learned to walk and walked beside you throughout your entire life. We are very proud of what you've accomplished all on your own and wherever life takes you, just know that we will always be walking with you to guide and protect you. We love you more than you can ever imagine and our hearts and minds will always be with you. Congratulations on completing your medical degree. ~Your Loving Parents

Zainab, It was hard to see you go so far away when we lived every day of our lives together even before we were born, but to see you reach your dream is the greatest joy. Your success is my success and I cannot be more proud to be your sister than I am today. I live to see happiness in your new life and career. ~Zina

Zainab, Ever since you first diagnosed me with chicken pox many years ago, I knew that you would become a great doctor someday. You faced many challenges along your way and you met them with strength and determination. I am proud of your success and to have you as a role model and a big sister. ~Mohammad

Dr. Zainab! Congratulations on this incredible accomplishment. I am certain that even greater accomplishments and contributions by you are yet to come and I look forward to sharing those experiences with you. You've reached a special status of being able to serve humanity, which is something to be truly proud of. ~Hamed
